

Daniel Scott Anthony

The Trade Partnership
1001 Connecticut Ave., NW, Suite 1110
Washington, DC 20036, United States
Telephone: 202-347-1041

Current position:

Vice President, The Trade Partnership, 2013 to present.

Selected past positions:

Director, Research and Government Relations, The Trade Partnership, 2007 to 2013.

Trade Policy Analyst, The Trade Partnership, 2006 to 2007.

Research Analyst, Corporate Executive Board, Washington, DC, 2005 to 2006.

Education:

M.A. in international affairs, 2005, The George Washington University.

B.A. in international affairs, 2002, The George Washington University.

Selected research and publications:

"Time is Running Out To Renew Trade Program," Ideas Lab, July 2013.

Everyone Has A Stake in Trade. Washington, DC, May 2012.

Unilateral Preferential Trade Programs Offered by the United States, the European Union, and Canada: A Comparison. Washington, DC, December 2008.

Presentations:

"GSP and the Congressional Trade Agenda," National Customs Broker and Forwarders Association of America Government Affairs Conference (September 2013).

"GSP Renewal Challenges in 2013," Recreational Vehicle Industry Association Annual Meeting (June 2013).

"The Importance of Exports to Congressional Districts," The Heritage Foundation's Trade Roundtable Series (July 2012).

"Pending Renewal of the GSP Program in Congress," Association of Women in International Trade (September 2011).